

National Careers Week 2022

As part of National Careers Week, The Basildon Academies will be celebrating a variety of careers throughout the week. On Monday 7th March, Lower Academy students will join a live virtual industry insight event with Alex Smith of Stansted Airport, where she will speak about how she got into her role, highlighting the use of transferable skills within all her careers. A Lego STEM day is also taking place for some students and Year 10 students will join a live virtual tour delivered by Amazon from one of their fulfilment centres.

As the week continues, students will celebrate International Women's Day, take part in 5 minutes of positivity at the start of lessons, here from Career Ready about Labour Market Information, Apprenticeships, different routes after year 11 and much more.

We will also be asking students to share their own future career aspirations.
